ZOMBIE REVENGE™

TM

These guys are just dying to meet you.

In a top-secret military research facility, UDS (United States Defensive Specialists) developed the ultimate warrior. This warrior requires no sleep, consumes no food and possesses unnatural strength and agility. Some call them the undead but you know them to be synthetically engineered Zombies. A radical band of terrorists located and overtook the research installation killing all those that got in their way. They have since amassed an army of Zombies and set them loose in the city. You and two other special agents must locate and neutralize these Zombies before they can escape the city and inflict their terror throughout the country. For your sake, I hope you don't run out of bullets.
